Prof. Dr. Stefan C. Wolter

2 Post-Doc positions (80%) in Economics of Education

The Centre for Research in Economics of Education is hiring up to 2 new Post-Docs in Economics of Education to commence on July 1st 2020. The Post-Docs will work in the context of the Swiss Leading House on the Economics of Education, a joint research group of the Universities of Zurich and Berne with a particular focus on Vocational Education and Training.

- We offer you an interesting and stimulating academic environment and access to interesting data sets and research questions
- The positions are initially limited to 2 years with a possible extension
- The preferred candidates should have completed a PhD in economics and possess good to excellent skills in econometrics and have a strong interest in the economics of education. Knowledge of the institutional settings of vocational education and training and the Swiss education system are an advantage but not a prerequisite
- The ideal candidates have already published one or more papers in the area of economics of education, labour economics and/or behavioural economics
- The working language is English but good command of German is an advantage
- The University of Bern is particularly interested in increasing the share of women in research and teaching and therefore strongly encourages women candidates to apply
- Applications including all required documents (résumé, copies of certificates, PhD thesis, lists of publications, and 2 references) should be sent electronically to stefan.wolter@vwi.unibe.ch by April 30
- Inquiries about the position can be sent to the same email address
- Interviews will be held electronically via video conferences
